

ABOUT ME

When I started learning the skills needed to work in the web development field I realized that I was feeling the enthusiasm that I had lacked during my university studies.

Due to my learning path, I acquired everything I know in complete autonomy.

This approach led me to the improvement of my problem-solving skill besides teaching me from day one how to manage difficulties on my own.

FUTURE GOALS

My next goal is to consolidate what I already know, increase my skills and improve myself in order to be more efficient.

Aware that I still have a lot to learn, I intend to learn React and back-end technologies as well.
